THAT foundling that goes under the name of Pixley had better stay in Frisco, for if he should ever show his nose in Arizona, especially in this section, he would be introduced to about six feet of hemp.

THE brave Crook and Pope must have given that contemptible ass called Pixley, of the Argonaut a few government castings.

WE cannot bestow too much praise on Al Jones and his brave volunteers for their manly and heroic efforts in trying to catch the murdering hounds. Although they did not succeed in killing any of them they run them out of county, thereby saving the lives of many of our people. Had it not been for the brave men we would now be hearing of murder and rapine at the hands of the murdering red devils.

WE say to our citizens to hang such things as Crook, Pope and Pixley, these Apache lovers, in effigy, to show how much we love them.

IN a few weeks, after the Indians have gotten through with their murdering picnic, old boy Crook will invite them back, together with their stolen stock to the reservation where they will be feasted and have a grand war jig. We say to our people, don't let them go back, but kill every one there.

THE people of the east will see ere long that brave and true citizens of Arizona, who have braved, together with their wives and little ones, the hardships of this country, will no longer submit to be shot like dogs.

WITH all our troubles don't let us weaken, but put our shoulder to the wheel and have a grand time on the Fourth of July.

THE British bug hole is a most potent factor in politics.

ON the 15th of next month the state of New York takes charge of its new purchase, Niagara Park. This will put a stop it is hoped, to the extortions that have been heretofore practiced on suffering tourists and will open up a great natural show to the free admiration of the world.

IT appears that offensive partisans are not only not to be kept in office, but even the pictures of such persons are to be turned out. At any rate, portraits of Grant and Wilson, which have been hanging for years in the office of the Third auditor of the treasury, were ordered to be taken down and stored away a few days ago.

SUBSCRIBE and advertise in the peoples paper.

THE bravery and gentlemanly conduct of Lt. Richards will not be forgotten by our citizens.

Condition of Gen. Grant.
New York, June 17.

Gen. Grant rested well last night and is feeling unusually comfortable this morning. The large painting of the general and family and the bust pedestal presented to him by the workingmen of Philadelphia, are this morning being packed and taken away. The General came down stairs, and for a time personally supervised the work of packing.

From the University to a Prison.
Chicago, June 17.

H. J. Pier and Fred Godman, the latter a son of Gen. Godman, who has been successively State Auditor and Secretary of State for Ohio, were charged with larceny before Justice White today. Each prisoner is about 21 years old. Godman's father now lives in Lincoln, Neb., and, it is said, disinherited his son some time ago on account of his manner of life. Pier's father is a wealthy merchant of Yankton, D. T. The young men were classmates, and graduate together from the State University at Amherst, Mass. The evidence against the prisoners was to the effect that on May 30 they formed the acquaintance of John B. Morey, a traveling man from Davenport, Ia., who was enjoying a brief vacation in this city. Morey drank heavily, and his new-found friends took him to his hotel and put him to bed. The next morning he missed his watch, worth $250. It was found in Andrews' pawn-shop, 322 State street. Andrews said he bought it of two young men and described them as resembling Pier and Godman. Their room was visited that evening, but they had left town. The day following they reached Mishawaka, Ind., and called on Dr. Butterworth, who was a personal friend of Godman's father. The Doctor invited the young men to stay overnight. After supper they were shown to a room and retired. That night, it is alleged, Godman stepped out of the house, broke into his host's barn, stole his horse and buggy and drove back to Chicago. Pier left behind to settle with Dr. Butterworth, but the latter would listen to no compromise, and telegraphed the city authorities here to be on the alert. Godman stabled the rig on Peck Court, and went in quest of some one to buy it. When he returned to the barn two detectives were in waiting, and he was made a prisoner. Pier was brought back from Indiana by Detective Palmer, and freely admitted the share he had in both transactions, as well as the guilt of Godman. The latter was held in $300 to the Criminal Court, but will be taken to Indians, as the offense he is said to have committed there is more serious than the other. Pier, who will be dealt with in Chicago, was held in $1,000 bonds.

Cut Out
Dustique, Ia., June 17.

Famine-Stricken.
WHEELING, W. Va., June 17.

The published accounts of the famine in Jackson County have created a marked sensation throughout the western and northern portions of the State, and subscription papers have been opened at a number of points for the relief of those in distress. The portion of Jackson County in which the suffering exists is about forty miles from the Ohio River, and is very thinly populated, with no means of communication except rough country roads. Telegrams and letters asking for the latest facts have been forwarded to Parkersburg, but several days must elapse before they can be forwarded to Jackson Court House from that point and answers received.
